Many features are built in when you buy an Exiss trailer:

Patented Slam Latch

The patented slam latch is smooth, with no protruding parts to snag a horse. Its easy-to-handle operation safeguards against you hands getting injured by horse or the divider.

Stainless Steel Nose

The stainless steel nose gives all Exiss Event trailers today's premium appearance.

Interior Dome Lights

Dome lights add illumination to the interior of the trailer, helping to keep your horses calm and making it easier to attend to animals in low light situations.

Padded Rump Bar

The padded butt bar with channel latch provides the horse with more stability than a strap or chain when traveling.

Locking Keyed Hasps

More user-friendly than traditional "truck" latches, the keyed locking hasp springs open with a press of a button, takes only one hand to operate and has a built in lock that eliminates the need for a padlock.

New or Used Exiss Horse Trailers for sale.

At Uncle Bob's Trailer and RV's we carry used horse trailers and stock trailers, gooseneck slant loads, including units with dressing rooms, tack storage, and many with living quarters.

Horse Trailer Terms

B - Usually used as a suffix indicating a bumper pull. E.g. Event STK 13 B.

Bumper pull - Trailer that connects to a ball hitch that's attached to the tow vehicle's frame or bumper

Butt side - Also called curb side or tail side. The side of the trailer equivalent to the passenger side of a vehicle in the United States. So called because each horses' rear end is located on this side when loaded in a slant load trailer.

Curb side - Also called butt side or tail side. The side of the trailer equivalent to the passenger side of a vehicle in the United States.

CX - Event gooseneck horse trailer with open air spaces in sidewalls on both sides.

CXF -Event gooseneck horse trailer that has open air spaces on the curb side and has drop down feed doors on the head side.

CXT - Event Series bumper pull horse trailer that has open air spaces on both sides.

Dressing Room - Separate room in front of the horse area, used for changing and storage.

E - Horse trailer with an escape door. Used as a suffix. E.g. Event XT/SS 300 E

ES - An Exiss Sport trailer. Used as a prefix. E.g. ES 300.

GLQ -Indicates a living quarter floor plan with a glide room. E.g. ES 307 GLQ

Gooseneck -Trailer that attaches to a ball in bed of a pickup or semi truck.

Head side - Also called street side. The side of the trailer equivalent to the driver's side of a vehicle in the United States. So called because each horses' head is located on this side when loaded in a slant bed trailer.

Limited - Also called Limited Package. Features of the Event Series plus premium upgrades combined to create a smart-looking, high-end package.

Living Quarters - Trailer that has an area appointed with living accommodations including bed, dinette, kitchenette, and bathroom.

Long Wall - The longer sidewall of the dressing room on the curb side, created by the slanted horse area stalls.

LQ -Indicates trailer with living quarters. Used as a suffix. E.g. Event SS 310 LQ

LQ Shell - Trailer with large empty space to be retrofitted with living quarters.

Mid tack - Tack room located between dressing room and horse area.

Non-Living Quarters - Trailer without living quarters.

Open both sides - Trailer with both sidewalls having open air spaces at the top for ventilation. Popular in hot climates.

Open butt side - Same as open curb side. Trailer sidewall on curb side has open air spaces at the top for ventilation. So called because of location of horses' rear end when loaded in trailer.

Open curb side - Same as open butt side. Trailer sidewall on butt side has open air spaces at the top for ventilation.

Pie tack - Mid tack that is wedge shaped (like a pie slice) is wide on the curb side and narrow on the street side.

Rear tack - Room in rear of horse area used for storing saddles, harnesses and other gear used for riding and working with horses. In most models the rear tack wall is collapsible.

Short wall - The shorter sidewall of the dressing room on the street side, created by the slanted horse area stalls.

Side tack - Mid tack room located on one side of the trailer. Also known as a closet tack.

Slant load - Horses loaded diagonally in trailer.

Slant tack - Mid tack that occupies a diagonal space, similar to a horse stall, between the horse area and the dressing room.

SS - Exiss Event trailers with smooth (non-extruded) skin aluminum sheet on the trailers exterior. Skin color is usually white but also available in black.

ST - Indicates straight load. Used as a suffix. E.g. SS 200 ST.

STC - Exiss stock combo trailer with dressing room. Generally used by people who show cattle or require extra storage.

STK - Exiss stock trailer with no dressing room. The perfect choice for ranching.

Straight load - Horses face front when loaded (or head-to-head in four and six horse models). Generally for larger and more active horses.

Street side - Also called head side. The side of the trailer equivalent to the driver's side of a vehicle in the United States.

Tail side - Also called curb side or butt side. The side of the trailer equivalent to the passenger side of a vehicle in the United States.

Trainer package - Exiss six horse trailer with an array of deluxe features including a large mid tack making it an ideal trailer for a horse trainer.

XT - Exiss Event trailers with extruded aluminum sheets on the trailer's exterior in the horse area and smooth skin in the gooseneck area.
